Fitzsimmons Knocked Corbett Out With Them and Anthony Biddle Valued Them.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 26.—Anthony J. Drexel Biddie, who is a great admirer of "Bob" Fitzsimnions, a puglist, brought suit yesterday in Common Pieas Court No. 2 against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company to recover $3,000 on a policy of burgiar insurance.

States Fidelity and Garanny Company to eurance.

Messrs. Hopple and Buckman, counsel for Mr. Biddle, explained that miler Fitzsimmons won the world's chamble of the beautiful country by defeating Corbett, Mr. Hiddle chamble on tertained him at a dinner, and the puglist presented to Mr. Biddle the grade of the mile of the beautiful country were in a glass and choracted out Coostt. They were in a glass and choracted miles with which he had kinocked out Coostt. They were in a glass and choracted the were very much prized by Mr. Biddle, who placed them in his private gymnastum, over a stable in the rear of No. 2104 Walnut Street.

While Mr. Biddle was away last summer the stable was broken into and the box and gloves were stolen, with a punching bag and was disturbed by the thieves, although there were articles of much greater money value, which could have readily the stolen goods was about $150, but Mr. Biddle attaches a sentimental value to the gloves.

The insurance company offered $30 in the gloves ance company offered $30 in actilement, and treated with ridiculo the suggestion that the gloves had any sentimental value. This aroused the indignation of Mr. Biddle, who instructed his lawyers to bring aut to recover $3,000.

Margaet Fuller's Capacity. Margaet Fuller's Capacity.

The fact that some one was willing to pax $110 for the originals of Margaret Fuller's love letters, published last year. Shows that not all share the opinion of this gifted woman which Senator Hoar relates was held by the good Dr. Bartlett. It was one very dark, stormy ovening, when the doctor was roused from his slumbers by a vigorous knocking at the door. "Who's there? What do you want?" The reply came out of the darkness; "Doctor, how much camphor can gunt?" The reply came out of the darkness; "Doctor, how much camphor can gunt?" "Who's taken It?" Inquired the doctor. "Margaret Fuller," came the reply whereupon the doctor spapped out: "A peck," slammed down the window and returned to bed.

Russian Dick Turpin.

Russian Dick Turpin.

"Solomon II., by the grace of God, King of the Jews." This was the way in which a very remarkable prisoner recently signed the prison book at Kief (Russis).

His history is curious. He was a hand-some, hardworking student of the Kieff Seminary, but on finishing his course he immediately provided himself with a revolver, dagger and a number of forget papers and passes, and began a career of robbery and brigandage, which was marked throughout by consummate skill and forethought.

He murdered and stole on the highway, his victims in Kieff including a staff captain and a master of the watch. At his richly furnished apartments in Kieff hedispensed lavish hospitality to a circle of most respectable friends, who never suspected the source of his wealth.

His capture was brought about by the accidental protrusion of a revolver from his coat pocket while he was bargaining with a fur merchant. The latter pointed him out to a detective, and "Solomon II." was arrested and bound like a dangerous wild beast.

At the preliminary examination he conwin arrested and bound like a dangerous wild beast.

At the preliminary examination he confessed to a long series of robberies, the proceeds of which he appears to have dispensed largely in succering the poor and the outcast.

He denied any murders, however, professes penitence, and intimates his anxiety to explate his misdeeds in the prayerful seclusion of a monastery.—London Mail.

Varjed Matrimonial Career.

Varied Matrimonial Career.

Mrs. Moke Smith, of Calwood, Callaway county, has, perhaps, had the most varied and remarkable matrimonial career of any woman in Missouri.

Her life shows what may be acomplished under the marriage and divorce laws of this State by a woman who is active, industrious and not slow about falling in love, or falling out again.

Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Fanny Teranee. Her first husband was Moses Shauer. After living with Mose awhile said married Moke Smith.

Tiring of Moke, she got a divorce from him, and united herself to Ferd awhile.

After she had lived with Ferd awhile she concluded Moke was a better fellow than she had thought, and she left Ferd and was remarried to Moke.

Tiring of Moke a, second time, she again separated herself from him, and in due course of time was wedded to J. H. Berry.

again separated letters, wedded to J. H. Berry.
Berry, however, suited her no better than Shaher, or Smith, or Altheiser, and she soon left him. Not long afterwards the was remarried to Berry, only soon to weary of him and get a second divorce from him. Now she is trying Moke again. "The buxom young brite, who has weathered so many storms," says the man who related Mirs. Shaffer-Smith-Altheiser-Smith-Berry-Berry-Smith's martimonial adventures to the Gazette, "Is the daughter of Uncle Ben Terrance, who carried the mail over the Calwood hills for twonly-six years, and with all her troubles looks none the worse for the storms of domestic life.
"In fact, she told me herself once of her troubles, saying that she had been married six times, had four living husbands, and yet in all her marital ventures had never yet owned a man that either killed a hog or took a turn of corn to mill."—Fulton (Mo.) Gazette.

TWO NEGROES CAUSE SPLIT IN SCHOOL

SPLIT IN SCHOOL

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BURLINGTON, N. J., Jan. 25.—The question of admission to the Captain James Lawrence High School of Bertha Jones and Lina Ford, two negro women, has caused a split between the school hoard and Theodore E. H. Connor, principal of the William R. Allen School, and the latter has been asked to resign.

The two young women finished their course at the Alen School, which is a public school for the education of negro children, last June, and were given certificates for admission to the ninth grade in the High School by Principal Connor. They wisned to study for teachers.

The school authorities told them they could not enter at the middle of the term without an examination. The two young women waited, and receiving no answer from the board, took the matter before State Superintendent Baxter. Now the local board is said to have given one of the entrance examination, her friends objected, claiming that the time was not sumcont. The controversy closes, last week, however, when both took the examinations.

MERICAN WOMAN ASTOUNDS BY RIDING

AS JUNNUS B RIDING

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Melton Mow bray hunt has never seen such a straight rider to hounds as Mrs. Adol Ladenburg, of New York, who shows all the mettle of the true sportswoman. She has been entertaining a good deal at Sysonsby Lodge, Foxhall Keene's place, which he left this season, but is now signing with Mrs. McKay, at Beauchamp Hail. Among the other guests in the big party there are Lord Rosslyn, Mrs. Herbert Paget and Craig Wadsworth.

Ambassador and Mrs. Choate went to Melton Wednesday to visit Lord Middleton and spend the week end, returning Monday or Tuesday. On the same day Miss Choate left for America on the Megestic. With her were Mr. and Mrs. Plerport Morgan, Jr., who were to look after her during the voyage. Miss Choate will be their guest in the United States for a short visit, afterwards making a round of visits among friends and relations.
